INTRODUCTION

Fowey is a quaint but bustling little fishing town nestled on the south Cornwall coast, perfect for an event with a difference. It's crammed with pretty, crooked little streets, lined with independent boutiques, which tumble down to the waterside where you can take in the comings and goings of this busy little port. The hotel has one event room offering everything you would need for your meeting, including state of the art in-built AV systems, complimentary high speed WiFi access, and car parking.

The hotel has 37 stunning bedrooms, many with Estuary views. Guest can also benefit from use of the Fowey Kitchen, bar and terrace. With flexible menu options, experienced Event Co-ordinators and competitive rates, Fowey Harbour Hotel offers everything you need to make your event a success. So, whether it's a board meeting by the sea or an away day with team building, meetings and events at Fowey Harbour Hotel inspire creative thinking and events to remember.

KEY FEATURES

A lift is available to take all guests to three of the four floors within the Hotel. Also, specially adapted bedrooms are available to ensure a most comfortable stay for our less able guests.

LOCATION

Fowey is signposted off the A390, between and St.Austell. Take the B3269 turn-off from the A390, signposted Fowey, and continue along this country road for seven miles. On meeting the mini-roundabout, continue straight across and follow this road into the town for one mile. When descending the hill into Fowey take the second turning on the right signposted Daglands Road. 200 yards further is a slip road bearing to the left signposted to Fowey Harbour Hotel, the Hotel is located within 100 metres along this drive.

TRANSPORT

Both taxis and mini-buses can be arranged through our reception when required. The most local railway station is Par, which is a 10-minute drive away; with the main St.Austell station being approximately 25 minutes drive away.

PARKING

Parking is very limited and can be reserved prior to arrival at a charge of £10 per night. Daytime parking may not be available, please check when making your reservation.
